

Feel-good freebies

On 19 September, the Beauty Hall at Selfridges, London, will host Beauty Editors Day, giving you a chance to quiz top beauty journalists to help raise money for the Look Good...Feel Better (LGFB) cancer charity. (You'll find the Marie Claire team on the Aveda stand.) Along with your own 15-minute session, you'll receive a stress-relieving ritual or a makeover and a goodie bag worth £75. Call 0800 138 8140 for tickets, £20 each, all of which goes to LGFB. For more information, visit lgfb.co.uk.

Just In Overwhelmed by your anti-ageing options? Estée Lauder Advanced Night Repair Synchronized Recovery Complex, £36, left us looking younger come morning.

READY, STEADY, GLOW!

Make-up that's worth its weight in gold

This season's gold make-up comes with the finest shimmer particles. Look radiant with these delectable glow-givers: for a tan-boosting touch of colour, dust MAC Naked Honey High-Light Powder in Honey Light, £15.50 (1) over cheeks, Cupid's bow and décolletage, and brighten eyes by lining lashes with Guerlain Retractable Eye Pencil in Bohemian 03, £16.50 (2). Shade and highlight eyes with a blend of colours from the Givenchy Prismissime Eyes palette in Poetique Browns, £34 (3).

Going Up

SCARLETT'S SHAG
Snips off dead ends, widens the face and takes years off. What's not to love about this season's wonder cut?

BRILLIANT BASE

Outselling lipstick, foundations are having a moment. The new formulas can even skin tone and smooth fine lines.

ANGELINA'S SUPER-DEWY SKIN

Apparently Angie's glow is down to Dr Michael Prager's spiky Dermalroller. Worth the prickly pain, surely?

Going Down

LAST SUMMER'S BLUNT FRINGE

Soft curtains hide crow's feet and frown lines. Look to J-Lo for style inspiration.

MAHOGANY TANS

Jordan, take note – 80s tans are over. For a hint of colour, try Sisley After-Sun Care Tan Extender, £72.50, for the 'realist'-looking tan we've seen.

CHIPPED NAILS

No excuses – OPI Axxium Soak-Off Gels, from £40 in salons, last for ages.

Bat Your Lashes

At last, a cure for lacklustre lashes. We're loving Lancôme's new Oscillation Power-Booster, £24.50 (right), which has a vibrating wand and secret ingredients from the hair-loss industry to help sparse lashes grow longer and thicker. Meanwhile, Latisse, a new prescription treatment, promises fuller lashes in a few months. Ask your GP.
